

BUSINESS DISPUTE SUITE | VERSION 1.0

Frameworks 5, 6 & 7

Engineered by Jackie Grandison
Senior IT Systems Technician | AI Subject Matter Expert | jackiegrandison.com

Important Disclosure: This document contains educational advocacy frameworks for strategic communications. These frameworks are not legal advice and do not constitute legal representation. Jackie Grandison is a Senior IT Systems Technician, AI Subject Matter Expert, and professional strategic communications consultant — not an attorney. Always consult a licensed attorney for legal matters specific to your jurisdiction. By using these frameworks, you acknowledge they are educational tools designed to help you draft professional, structured communications.

WELCOME

This suite is engineered for high-stakes business, contractual, and property disputes. These frameworks serve landlords pursuing unpaid rent, businesses recovering losses from vendor failures, and contractors or consultants seeking payment on completed work — situations where thousands of dollars are at stake and generic communications fail. All frameworks are tool-agnostic — they work with Claude, ChatGPT, Google Gemini, Grok, DeepSeek, or any other AI chat model you already use.

How to Use These Frameworks

1. Copy the exact prompt block into any AI chat model — Claude, ChatGPT, Google Gemini, Grok, DeepSeek, or whichever tool you prefer.
2. Replace every bracketed variable (e.g., [Insert State], [Insert Amount]) with your specific details.
3. Paste the opposing party's denial letter, notice, or correspondence where indicated.
4. Run the prompt and review the generated document carefully before sending.
5. Verify all statute references and amounts against your actual records before delivery.

FRAMEWORK 5: LANDLORD RENT RECOVERY & PRE-EVICTION DEMAND MODEL

Use Case: Property owners and landlords pursuing unpaid rent, issuing formal pay-or-vacate notice, or establishing a documented paper trail prior to formal eviction proceedings.

Act as a property rights strategist and landlord advocacy specialist. I am a residential property owner dealing with a tenant who has failed to meet their rent obligations and I need a formal written demand for payment as a documented pre-eviction notice.

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Draft a firm, factual Demand for Payment of Overdue Rent addressed to the named tenant(s).
2. Clearly state the total amount owed, the specific rental periods in arrears, and the exact deadline by which full payment must be received.
3. Reference the governing lease agreement and the landlord's right to pursue formal eviction proceedings under applicable state law if payment is not received within the stated cure window.
4. Maintain a strictly professional, non-hostile tone that establishes legal seriousness without inflammatory language.
5. Include a statement that all future communications must be conducted in writing, and that this letter constitutes formal notice under the lease.

VARIABLES:

- State/Jurisdiction: [Insert State]
- Tenant Name(s): [Insert Full Name(s)]
- Property Address: [Insert Full Address]
- Lease Start Date: [Insert Date]
- Total Rent Overdue: [Insert Dollar Amount]
- Overdue Period(s): [Insert Months/Dates Unpaid]
- Payment Deadline: [Insert Cure Date — check your state's required window, typically 3-14 days]
- Landlord/Owner Name: [Insert Name]
- Preferred Payment Method: [Insert Method, e.g., certified check, online portal]

OUTPUT FORMAT:

Generate a complete formal notice letter with property header, date, subject line, body, and signature block. Flag where state-specific statutory language should be inserted.

EXECUTION ROADMAP

1. Verify your state's required cure window before setting the payment deadline — most states require 3-14 days.
2. Fill in all variables — amounts, dates, and tenant names must be exact.
3. Run the prompt and verify all statutory references against your state's landlord-tenant code.
4. Deliver via certified mail with return receipt AND personal delivery if your state requires dual service.
5. Maintain a complete paper trail: signed lease, full payment history, prior communications, and proof of delivery.
6. If payment is not received by the stated deadline, consult your state's housing court process for formal eviction filing.

FRAMEWORK 6: VENDOR NON-PERFORMANCE & SERVICE REFUND ESCALATION MODEL

Use Case: Individuals or businesses that paid a contractor, service provider, or vendor who failed to deliver, delivered substandard work, or abandoned the engagement without issuing a refund.

Act as a consumer protection strategist and commercial dispute specialist. I paid a service provider or vendor for work that was not completed, not delivered as agreed, or was substantially below the quality represented at the time of agreement. I need a formal written demand for a refund or completion of the contracted work.

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Draft an executive-level escalation letter establishing the factual timeline of the agreement, payment made, and the specific failure of the vendor or service provider to perform.
2. Cite the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing and the buyer's right to receive services as contracted and paid for.
3. Present a clear, binary demand: either full completion of the contracted work by a specified date, or a full refund of all amounts paid within a defined response window.
4. State that failure to respond or comply will result in escalation to the appropriate consumer protection authority, state licensing board (if applicable), and/or small claims court.
5. Maintain a tone that is measured, factual, and authoritative — signal legal readiness without crossing into personal attacks.

VARIABLES:

- Vendor/Company Name: [Insert Name]
- Service or Product Contracted: [Insert Description]
- Date of Agreement: [Insert Date]
- Total Amount Paid: [Insert Dollar Amount]
- Payment Method: [Insert Method, e.g., credit card, check, Zelle]
- Specific Failure: [Insert Description, e.g., work abandoned after deposit / product never delivered]
- Prior Attempts to Resolve: [Insert Dates and Method of Prior Contact]
- Deadline for Resolution: [Insert Date — typically 10-14 days]
- State/Jurisdiction: [Insert State]

OUTPUT FORMAT:

Generate a formal demand letter with a clear subject line, documented timeline section, binary demand statement, escalation warning, and signature block.

EXECUTION ROADMAP

1. Gather every supporting document: contract, payment receipts, emails, texts, and photos of incomplete work.
2. Fill in all variables with precise details — vague language weakens your position.
3. Run the prompt and verify the output matches your actual situation exactly.
4. Send via email with read receipt AND certified mail for a dual-delivery paper trail.
5. If paid by credit card, simultaneously initiate a chargeback dispute — typically 60-120 days from charge date.
6. If no response within your stated window, file complaints with your State Attorney General and state contractor licensing board if applicable.

FRAMEWORK 7: CONTRACTUAL BREACH & UNPAID INVOICE ESCALATION MODEL

Use Case: Freelancers, independent contractors, consultants, and small business owners who have delivered services in full but have not received payment from a client.

Act as a senior commercial contract strategist and business dispute advisor. I have fulfilled all contractual obligations under a paid service agreement and the client has failed to remit payment by the agreed invoice due date. I need a formal Pre-Legal Demand for Payment that signals complete legal readiness while maintaining a professional business posture.

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Draft a commanding, executive-level demand letter documenting the contractual agreement, scope of work delivered, invoice amount, original due date, and the number of days the payment is currently overdue.
2. Invoke the client's contractual obligation to remit payment under the agreed terms and note any applicable late fee provisions in the original agreement.
3. Establish a strict 7-day final cure window for full payment before escalation to small claims court, referral to a commercial collections agency, or reporting to commercial credit bureaus.
4. Maintain a tone that is objective, controlled, and professionally decisive — the letter should read as a calm, final administrative step, not an emotional appeal.

VARIABLES:

- Client / Company Name: [Insert Client Name]
- Original Contract or Agreement Date: [Insert Date]
- Scope of Work Delivered: [Insert Brief Summary of Deliverables]
- Invoice Number: [Insert Invoice #]
- Invoice Amount Due: [Insert Dollar Amount]
- Original Invoice Due Date: [Insert Date]
- Days Currently Overdue: [Insert Number]
- Late Fee Rate (if applicable): [Insert Rate or "N/A"]
- Your Business Name: [Insert Your Name or Business Name]

OUTPUT FORMAT:

Generate a complete Pre-Legal Demand Letter formatted for both email delivery and certified physical mail, including subject line, formal salutation, structured body, and signature block.

EXECUTION ROADMAP

1. Compile your signed contract, all delivered work files, sent invoices, and any prior payment reminders.
2. Fill in all variables — invoice number, exact dollar amount, and all dates must be precise.
3. Run the prompt and verify all deliverable descriptions match what you actually provided.
4. Send via email AND certified mail simultaneously to establish a dual-delivery paper trail.
5. If no payment within 7 days, evaluate options: small claims court, commercial collections referral, or formal attorney demand letter.
6. Keep every document in one folder: contract, invoice, delivered work proof, this letter, and all delivery receipts.